Cold Laser and Ultrasound Therapy

These therapeutic, anti-inflammatory treatments are administered directly, penetrating deeply into the tissues. They increase blood flow, relax muscle spasms, repair damaged tissue and speed healing dramatically. Our Cold Laser, the IGC 2000, is eye-safe and has no side effects.

Cold Laser / Ultrasound is beneficial for:

Nerve Damage / Paralysis
Back and Hip Pain
Old Injuries
Temperament Changes
Trouble Moving and/or Stiffness
Before or After Surgery
Competition Issues

Testimonials

"Our dog Xena had back surgery at Columbia University and was fighting for her life. The photon therapy administered by Indian Creek healed the nerves, and she recovered completely from the paralysis."

Brian & Carey Henry

"Ultrasound has really made a difference in Britta's performance."

John Hoffmann, professional trainer

"The Photon therapy cured a lick granuloma we had been fighting in our top hunting dog for 18 months."

John Bolin, professional field guide

"Thanks to Indian Creek, my 11 year-old Doberman Hope has had years added to her life and no longer suffers from the pain of hip displasia."

Judy Schmelig

"The therapeutic ultrasound treatments from Indian Creek have given my performance dogs an advantage in the show ring."

Jean Cantanzaro

"We took our young boxer to Indian Creek for photon therapy for a torn ACL. We avoided surgery and he made a complete recovery."

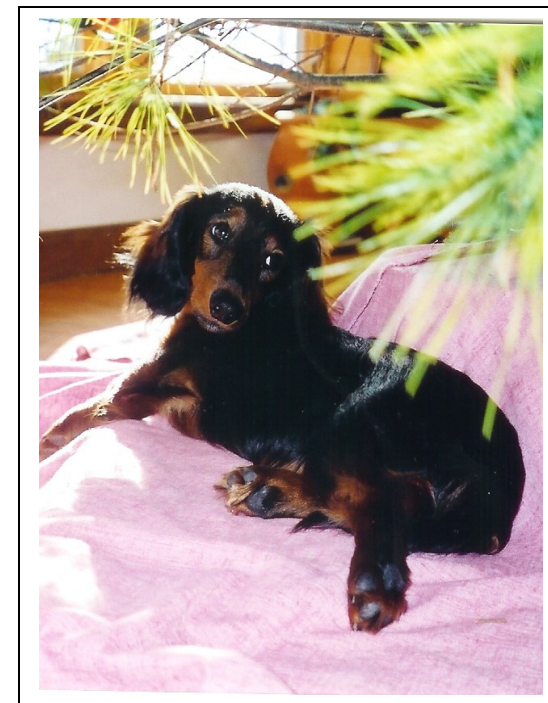

Beth Mills

"My dog Magic had a chronic knee condition causing constant pain. After a few weeks of photon therapy he is back to his old self."
